DETAILED ACTION

The amendment dated 4/4/07 is entered. Claims 5,8-11 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Draper (U.S. Patent number 214,894) in view of Blendermann (U.S. Patent number 3,469,698).

Draper shows a cleanout with drainage capabilities comprising first body (B) having a sidewall, top access opening (near P); and bottom access opening (near D); and the sidewall having a plurality of drainage openings (col. 2, lines 4 and 5); and a removable closure (P). Draper lacks explicit disclosure of the "slots" and the second body rotatably engaged.

Blendermann teaches a similar drainage structure, which includes a first and second body with overlapping slots (e.g. figure 9, column 4, lines 4-19). Blendermann discloses that the first and second bodies rotatably engaged with overlapping slots provides adjustability of flow, furthermore, the Blendermann structure is described as telescoping; and plainly relative axial movement would result in adjusting the length of the slots. The courts have held that provision of adjustability is not a patentable advance, thus the modification of Draper with a known structure (first and second body with overlapping slots) for providing adjustability would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention. See In re Stevens, 212 F.2d 197, 101 USPQ 284 (CCPA 1954).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 8-11 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 4/4/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant asserts that the claimed invention defines over the combination of Draper and Blendermann because Blendermann fails to teach axial movement. This is not persuasive: Blendermann (4:4) plainly discloses telescoped sleeves, which are inherently capable of axial movement.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
